The language of communication shall be English, and you will receive documents and other information from us in English. Our website at www.bankofireland.com/treasury/library may contain further details about us and other services and other information relevant to these Terms.

4 Your Categorisation

4.1 We will notify you of your categorisation under the Regulations in a separate letter (the “Client Communication”). The Client Communication outlines your categorisation and will also advise you of your right to request a different categorisation and the limitations to the level of protection that such a different categorisation would entail. We cannot enter into a Transaction with you until you have received the Client Communication. Please contact us, if you have not received it, so that we can issue you with a duplicate letter.

4.2 The categorisations provided in the Regulations are outlined as an appendix to the Client Communication and you hereby agree to advise us if you are aware or become aware of any change that could affect your categorisation by us including any changes in your investment objectives, financial situation or attitude to risk. If you are a municipality or a local authority you cannot be classified as an Eligible Counterparty or a per se Professional Client.

- 4.3 If you are acting on behalf of another we will treat you alone as our client for the purposes of these Terms and the Regulations and you will be liable as such. No other person (whether identified to us or not) shall be our client nor have any rights under these Terms.

5 Our Services

- 5.1 Unless we inform you otherwise, we will deal as principal and not as an agent on your behalf in relation to any of the Investments in accordance with these Terms and to the extent permitted by Applicable Regulations (as defined in clause 9).
- 5.2 The services which we may provide to you under these Terms are general dealing services in Investments.

6 Execution only business

6.1 Appropriateness assessment

- 6.1.1 If you have been categorised as an Eligible Counterparty under the Regulations, we are not obliged to undertake an appropriateness assessment.
- 6.1.2 If you have been categorised as a Professional Client under the Regulations, we are required to assess whether any Transactions in Complex Products are appropriate for you. In doing so, we are entitled to assume that you have the necessary experience and knowledge in order to understand the risks involved in relation to those Transactions for which you have been categorised as a Professional Client.
- 6.1.3 If you have been categorised as a Retail Client under the Regulations and we provide execution only services to you in relation to Complex Products, we are required to assess whether it is appropriate for you to deal in a Complex Product by requesting from you certain information relating to your experience and knowledge of transacting such products that will help us assess whether you understand the risks associated with dealing in them. We will examine the types of our products and services with which you are familiar as well as the nature, volume and frequency of your previous transactions and may also consider further details, including the level of formal and professional education of those individuals within your organisation who may transact Investments with us.
- 6.1.4 If you do not provide sufficient information to allow us to carry out the appropriateness assessment or do not provide any information at all, we are unlikely to be able to assess whether you have the necessary knowledge and experience to understand the risks involved. If you still wish us to proceed on your behalf, we may do so at our absolute discretion. If we do so, you should note that we may not be able to determine whether the dealing in the particular Complex Product is appropriate for you or in your best interests.

- 6.1.5 If, on the basis of the information that you have supplied to us in relation to your knowledge and experience, we consider dealing in the particular Complex Product is not appropriate, we will warn you of this. If you still wish us to proceed on your behalf, we may do so at our absolute discretion. If we do so, you should note that the Investment may not be appropriate for you and that you may be exposing yourself to risks that fall outside your knowledge and experience and/ or which you may not have the knowledge or experience properly to assess and/or control to try to mitigate their consequences for you.
- 6.1.6 If you have been categorised as a Retail or Professional Client under the Regulations and on your own initiative, you have asked us to provide you with execution-only dealing services in Non-Complex Products, we are not required to assess the suitability or appropriateness of the instrument or the service provided or offered to you. As a result, you will not benefit from the protection of the Regulations in respect of assessing your suitability or appropriateness which will mean that you, and not we, will be responsible for ensuring that all investment decisions undertaken by you meet your investment objectives, financial position and attitude to risk. We will act solely in accordance with the instruction provided by you and will take no responsibility for assessing, on your behalf, the merits of such an investment. It will remain your responsibility to monitor the price movements of such investments. We make no commitment to advise you of price movements, news or research items which impact such Investments. Holding unsuitable Investments may expose you to greater risk and/or losses than are acceptable to you. In providing this service we are not required to assess whether the investment decisions that you have chosen to undertake are suitable for you. Accordingly, when giving orders or Instructions to us, you must rely upon your own judgement. You should get independent advice from an authorised investment advisor if you are in any doubt.

7 Non-advisory business and non-reliance

Bank of Ireland acting through its business unit Global Markets does not provide Investment advice and, therefore, does not conduct suitability assessments in the context of business carried out between you and the Bank. We provide interest rate and other risk management solutions on a strictly non-advised basis only. Any information we may provide to you will be limited to generic information on our Services and you should place no reliance on such information when deciding the merits of your investment decision.

7.1 Under the Regulations for Retail Clients we are obliged to obtain the essential facts about your knowledge and experience in respect of the Services and Investments that you wish to transact.

7.2 If you have been categorised as a Professional Client under Regulations, we are entitled to assume that you have the necessary experience and knowledge to understand the risks involved in the Investments and Services for which you have been so categorised and that you can financially bear any investment risk associated with your investment objectives. We will not independently verify these facts.

7.3 We shall assume that information about your personal and financial circumstances which you provide to us is accurate and we will have no responsibility to you if such information changes or becomes inaccurate unless you have informed us of such changes.

7.4 If you do not understand any aspect of these Terms, we strongly recommend that you seek independent professional advice before entering into an Investment.

8 Risk warnings

8.1 We have set out a general description of the nature and risks associated with the Investments in schedule 1 of these Terms.

8.2 You understand that transactions in futures, options and contracts for differences may entail contingent liability (i.e. liability dependent on future uncertain events) and may, in certain circumstances, give rise to an obligation to pay margin. You should be aware that contingent liability transactions carry a high level of risk and can result in losses that exceed your initial deposit.

8.3 If you wish to terminate a Transaction before its Maturity Date, Breakage Cost may arise. Please refer to clause 11.5 for details.

9 Applicable Regulations

9.1 All Transactions will be subject to the Regulations and the rules, customs, orders and procedures of any Regulated Market, OTF, MTF or any other exchange or clearing house as are in force from time to time through which the Transactions are executed and/or cleared, and to all other applicable law, rules and regulations as are in force from time to time (collectively, the "Applicable Regulations") so that:

9.1.1 if there is any conflict between the provisions of these Terms and any Applicable Regulations the latter will prevail;

9.1.2 we may take or omit to take any action we consider fit in order to ensure compliance with any Applicable Regulations. For the avoidance of doubt, we shall not be required by you to do anything that would, in our opinion, infringe any Applicable Regulations to which we are subject; and 9.1.3 all Applicable Regulations and whatever we do or do not do in order to comply with them will be binding on you.

10 Relationship with Master Documentation and other Agreements

Each Transaction may also be subject to the terms of any other agreement between us pursuant to which we are executing that Transaction including any ISDA Master Agreement or other master netting agreement, mandate or other facility document. The terms of such agreements shall take priority over these Terms but shall not take priority over any Applicable Regulations.

11 Basis of dealing

11.1 Placing of Instructions

11.1.1 We are entitled to act on any Instructions you may provide to us and we shall be under no obligation to confirm Instructions in writing.

11.1.2 We reserve the right to require that Instructions can only be given in a particular way. Where we consider that we require Instructions in writing from you, you agree to provide such Instructions within the timeframe prescribed.

- 11.1.3 If any Instructions are received by us orally we may ask you to confirm such Instructions in writing. However, we shall be authorised to follow Instructions notwithstanding your failure to confirm them in writing.
- 11.1.4 We may from time to time and in our sole discretion require the Instructions of all of the Authorised Individuals in relation to the Account or Transactions.
- 11.1.5 Where Instructions are provided by or purported to be provided by an Authorised Individual by telephone or any other electronic system, medium, platform or mechanism which we may agree in writing with you, such Instructions will override any provisions in the Mandate in relation to the number of signatures which are required in relation to your Account or Transactions.
- 11.1.6 You shall do all that is necessary to ensure maximum security in connection with the issue of any Instructions or Confirmations and shall keep secret any system authorisations and/or validation codes issued in connection with such Instructions or Confirmations. If any code becomes known to any unauthorised person you will notify us immediately and will be liable in full until notification is received by us for any Transactions effected as a result of a breach of this provision.
- 11.1.7 For the avoidance of doubt, we will consider electronic signatures made by you or any person authorised in writing on your behalf in accordance with the Mandate (where applicable) to be legally binding upon you and us.
- 11.2 Cancellation and Acceptance of Instructions
We can only cancel your Instructions if we have not yet acted upon them. We may, but shall not be obliged to, accept Instructions to enter into a Transaction. If we decline to enter into a proposed Transaction, we shall not be obliged to give a reason but we shall notify you promptly.
- 11.3 Execution of Instructions
Subject to clause 11.4, we deal with orders in the order in which we receive them. Dependent on the terms of the order, we may execute an order electronically or manually.
- 11.4 Aggregation of Orders
We may combine clients' orders with our own orders and orders of other clients. We will not aggregate your order with another client's order if it is likely that such aggregation will operate to your disadvantage; where we have not informed you of any potential disadvantage and where our order allocation policy has not been closely followed. However, on occasion, aggregation may result in you obtaining a less favourable result. We will not aggregate transactions on our own account with your orders in a way that might be detrimental to you.
- 11.5 Breakage Cost:
- 11.5.1 If you wish to terminate a Transaction before its Maturity Date, we will consider such request as soon as reasonably practicable. Should we agree to such request, the termination may result in a breakage cost payable by either you (to the Bank) or the Bank (to you) (the "Breakage Cost"). This cost will be dependent on the time remaining on the Transaction and the relevant market rate available to the Bank on the day on which such early termination takes effect. You are strongly advised to discuss potential Breakage Cost with us in advance of requesting an early termination of a Transaction.
- 11.5.2 Example - Breakage Cost calculation for an Interest Rate Swap ("IRS"):
If you are the fixed rate payer under an IRS (with a constant notional amount) the Breakage Cost would be determined by:
The notional amount of the IRS x the remaining term of the fixed interest period (expressed in years) x difference between the interest rate available to the Bank for the remaining term of the IRS and your fixed interest rate for that period.
E.g. you have entered into an IRS of €1,000,000 (with a constant notional amount i.e. €1,000,000 for the life of the transaction) with the Bank for a period of three years and agreed to pay a fixed rate of 3.50% for the life of the IRS and in return to receive a variable rate matched to a pre-agreed LIBOR rate. If you wished to terminate this IRS in full after two years and the fixed interest rate available in the market to the Bank is then 1.50%, you will be obliged to make a payment of Breakage Cost to the Bank in the amount of €20,000 which is calculated ($€1,000,000 \times 1 \text{ year} \times 2.00\% = €20,000$).
Conversely, if the fixed rate at the time of breakage is 3.75%, the Bank will have to make a payment of Breakage Cost to you in the amount of €2,500 ($€1,000,000 \times 1 \text{ year} \times 0.25\% = €2,500$).

- 11.6 MiFID II Regulated FX Contracts
Specific rules and requirements as set out in schedule 5 apply to MiFID II Regulated FX Contracts, unless they are expressly excluded or varied.

12 Execution of orders

12.1 Best execution duty

- 12.1.1 Pursuant to the Regulations, we owe a duty of best execution when we execute orders on your behalf. In the light of our business model, we wish to advise that if you have been categorized as a Professional Client we generally do not consider that we execute orders on your behalf within the meaning of the Regulations in the following circumstances and therefore do not owe you a best execution obligation to provide you with the best possible result. Namely:

- (a) where we merely provide prices at which we would be willing to buy or sell; or
- (b) where we provide you, either on request or on a continuous quoting basis, with a quote for the purchase or sale of an Investment; or
- (c) where we are acting as your counterparty for our own account; or
- (d) any other circumstances which clearly demonstrate that you have not legitimately relied on our expertise to protect your interests in relation to any aspect of the Transaction.

- 12.1.2 We also do not owe the duty of best execution if you have been categorised as an Eligible Counterparty.

- 12.1.3 There may be limited circumstances in which we determine that we are executing orders on your behalf. This may be the case if you are a Retail Client. Where we identify that we owe the duty of best execution, we will inform you separately of our best execution policy. A summary of our best execution policy can be found on our website.

12.2 LEI and National Client Identifier

If you are a legal entity, we will require you to provide us with an LEI before a transaction can be executed. If you are a natural person, we will require you to provide us with a National Client Identifier or any information necessary to determine your National Client Identifier.

12.3 Confirmations and Statements

- 12.3.1 If you are a Retail Client or a Professional

Client, we are required to provide you with a Confirmation no later than the first Business Day following execution of your order or if the confirmation is received from a third party, no later than the first business day following receipt of the confirmation from that third party. Where it is not possible to send you full and final details of the Transaction at that time, we will send you a summary Confirmation containing key Transaction details. The full Confirmation will follow in due course.

- 12.3.2 It is your responsibility to inform us of any change to the address or other contact details to which Confirmations are sent, the non-receipt of a Confirmation or whether any Confirmations are incorrect before settlement.

- 12.3.3 Where required under EMIR the Bank will periodically provide or make available to you a Statement setting out details of relevant Transactions, including;

- (a) the key trade terms to enable you to identify each Transaction; and
- (b) the valuation attributed to each Transaction

- 12.3.4 Confirmations and Statements shall, in the absence of manifest error, be conclusive and binding on you, unless we receive from you objection in writing within ten Business Days of dispatch to you or, where relevant, within the earlier timeframe that may be specified in such Confirmation or Statement, or we notify you of an error in the Confirmation or Statement within the same period.

- 12.3.5 In the event of, and to the extent of, any conflict between a Statement and a Confirmation in respect of a Transaction, the terms of the Confirmation shall prevail.

- 12.3.6 Confirmations or Statements may be generated automatically and may not be signed by us. Our failure to generate a Confirmation or Statement shall not impact on the efficacy, validity or enforceability of the Transaction.

12.4 Performance and Settlement

- 12.4.1 You shall deliver promptly such funds, investments or other assets deliverable by you under a Transaction in accordance with the terms of that Transaction.

- 12.4.2 In the event that you fail to comply with this obligation, we may provide such funds, investments and other assets as is necessary to fulfil your obligations under the Transaction and you shall be liable to us for the cost of so doing. To the extent applicable, we may debit the costs of so doing from your account(s) which are held by the Bank or any of our Associates.

12.5 Set-off and Lien

12.5.1 We may, to the extent applicable and at our discretion, set off, in whole or in part, monies due to you against monies due or owing from you to us, whether actual or contingent, in relation to any Transaction notwithstanding that the balances on such accounts and the liabilities of you to us may not be expressed in the same currency and we may effect any necessary conversions at such rate and time of exchange as determined by us on the day of the combination, consolidation or set-off. If the amount of the liability is unliquidated or unascertained, we may set off a sum which we estimate in good faith will be the liquidated or ascertained amount of the liability.

12.5.2 We retain the right at all times to exercise a general lien or security interest over any client financial instruments or funds that are held on your behalf in safe custody in order to recover debts that do relate to you or the provision of services to you.

12.5.3 If we do not receive either cash or securities in respect of any transaction by the due date, we may immediately, without further demand or notice/having contacted you to demand settlement, cancel, close out, terminate, charge an administrative charge or reverse any contracts and resell, charge, pledge or otherwise dispose of any financial instruments or funds which we hold and use the proceeds towards what you owe us. We may dispose of such financial instruments at whatever price and in whatever manner we see fit at our absolute discretion and we will not be responsible for any loss or reduction in value of such financial instrument. We reserve the right to sell whatever financial instrument we deem appropriate and we shall not be liable to you in respect of such selection. We will give you reasonable notice but no less than three business days' notice before taking such action.

12.5.4 These rights will not affect any other rights of set-off, combination or lien we may have. It is our policy to pass on all fines, penalties and costs we might incur if you fail to make payment or you fail to deliver. We reserve the right to retain, or to require any of the companies in the same group as us to retain, or make deductions from, amounts which we owe to you or are holding for you, in respect of any charges and other amounts payable by you to us or in respect of any other liability you may have towards us. Where the funds realised by the sale of the financial instrument are insufficient to cover the whole of your liability to us, you will remain liable to us for the balance.

12.5.5 Any funds/assets held as client monies under Applicable Regulations will not be so offset once you have formally notified us and we have duly confirmed in writing that such funds/assets are client money. Where we have confirmed that funds/assets are held as client money we may not claim a lien or security interest over such funds/assets except to the extent that it relates to any charges in respect of the administration or safekeeping of the funds/ assets or where you have failed to settle a Transaction by the due settlement date.

12.6 Third parties

12.6.1 It is likely that during the course of settlement someone other than yourself, ourselves or an Associate, will hold your money and/or be the nominal holder of your registered investments or the custodian of the documents of title or certificates which evidence the title to your investments. While every care has been taken in appointing such parties, we do not accept responsibility and have no liability for the actions or omissions by any such third party.

12.6.2 Where such third parties are situated outside Ireland it may mean that the legal and regulatory regime applying to those parties is different to that of Ireland and in the event of a default of such an institution those assets may be treated differently from the position which would apply if the assets were held in an eligible credit institution, relevant party or eligible custodian in Ireland. This transaction and custody risk is increased where local custody services in underdeveloped or emerging market countries are used.

13 Our Charges

13.1 Charges

13.1.1 In addition to the price of each Investment, you will pay our charges. These charges, including, where appropriate, the basis of calculation, how they are to be paid and collected and how frequently they are to be paid are subject to negotiation and agreement between us, unless we have notified you in advance of the applicable charges. You will also pay any applicable value added tax on such charges. A disclosure of expected Aggregated Costs and Charges and expected Total Consideration is available on our website at <https://corporate.bankofireland.com/library/>. We will also provide this information on a post trade term sheet confirming actual Aggregated Costs and Charges and actual Total Consideration following execution of any Derivative trade.

An itemised break down of costs and charges can be provided to you at any stage by your relationship manager on request.

13.2 Taxes

13.2.1 You will also be responsible for payment of any applicable taxes and any industry levy, brokerage fees, transfer fees, registration fees and all other liabilities, charges, costs and expenses payable or incurred by us in connection with these Terms.

13.2.2 It is your responsibility to:

- (a) ensure that you have obtained appropriate tax advice in relation to your Transactions;
- (b) make all tax payments as required by applicable law and regulation;
- (c) provide us with any documentation as required by applicable law and regulation for tax purposes and you undertake to provide us with such documentation when requested by us to do so; and
- (d) make all necessary filings, returns and/or other disclosures to the appropriate regulatory authorities.

13.3 Payments

All payments to us shall be made in same day funds, in such currency as we may from time to time specify, to the bank account designated by us for such purpose. All such payments shall be made by you without any deduction or withholding.

13.4 Default Interest

If you fail to pay us any amount when it is due, we reserve the right to charge you interest on any such unpaid amount calculated at the rate as reasonably determined by us to be the cost of funding such overdue amount. Interest will accrue on a daily basis and will be due and payable by you as a separate debt.

13.5 Currency Indemnity

If we receive or recover any amount in respect of an obligation of yours in a currency other than that in which such amount was payable, whether pursuant to a judgment of any court or otherwise, you shall indemnify us and hold us harmless from and against any cost (including costs of conversion) and any loss suffered by us as a result of receiving such amount in a currency other than the currency in which it was due.

15.2 We have implemented a conflicts of interest policy ("the Conflicts Policy") that identifies those circumstances that constitute, or may give rise to, conflicts of interest which may damage the interests of one or more of our customers. - 17.2 Exclusion for Telephone and Electronic Instructions

17.4 Indemnity

17.4.1 You will indemnify us and our officers, employees, agents and delegates against any costs, loss, liability, claims, demands, proceeds or expenses whatsoever which may be suffered or incurred by us and/or them directly or indirectly in connection with or as a result of any service performed or action permitted under these Terms except to the extent that the expense or loss is due to our or their respective negligence, wilful default or fraud.

17.5 Reasonable Delay

Notwithstanding the above, we shall be under no liability for any loss or expense you incur by reason of our reasonable delay in dealing with your Transaction or any change in market conditions. We shall have no liability to you for any loss or expense you may suffer or incur as a consequence of any Transaction entered into by you in accordance with your Instructions.

18 Margin

18.1 Where we effect or arrange a Transaction involving an option, future or contract for differences you should note that, depending upon the nature of the Transaction, you may be liable to make margin payments. Further payments may be required if the Transaction fails to be completed or upon the earlier settlement or closing out of your position.

18.2 You will be required to make further variable payments by way of margin against the purchase price of the investment, instead of paying (or receiving) the whole purchase (or sale) price immediately.

18.3 The movement in the market price of your investment will affect the amount of margin payment you will be required to make.

18.4 We will monitor your margin requirements on a daily basis and we will inform you as soon as it is reasonably practicable of the amount of any margin payment required under this clause.

18.5 You agree to pay us on demand such sums by way of margin as are required from time to time under the rules of any relevant market (if applicable) or as we may in our discretion reasonably require for the purpose of protecting ourselves against loss or risk of loss on present, future or contemplated Transactions under these Terms.

18.6 If you fail to meet a margin call, we may (and after five Business Days will) close out the position unless we have previously granted you a loan or credit in accordance with Applicable Regulations.

18.7 Unless otherwise agreed, margin must be paid in cash. The currency of the cash margin you pay to us shall be the currency of the relevant underlying Transaction (if applicable) or as we may in our discretion reasonably decide from time to time. Cash margin is paid to us as an outright transfer of title and you will not retain any interest in it. Cash margin received by us will be recorded by us as a cash repayment obligation owed by us to you.

19 Security

19.1 We may require you to provide security for your obligations under these Terms in the form of cash or collateral acceptable to us as we may determine. Such security will be provided as continuing security for the performance of all your obligations (whether actual or contingent, present or future) to us under or pursuant to these Terms (“the Secured Obligations”). You shall grant to us, with full title guarantee, a first fixed mortgage or charge as directed by us in all such non-cash collateral provided by you to us or to our order or under our direction or control or otherwise held by an Associate.

19.2 You agree to execute such further documents and take such further action as we may reasonably require to perfect our security interest over, be registered as owner of or obtain legal title to the collateral, secure further Secured Obligations, enable us to exercise our rights or to satisfy any market requirement.

19.3 You undertake neither to create nor to have outstanding any security interest whatsoever over, nor to agree to assign or transfer, any of the collateral transferred to us.

19.4 You agree that we may, free of any adverse interest of yours or any other person, grant a security interest over the collateral provided by you to cover any of our obligations owed by virtue of the positions held by us for you (whether as principal or as agent).

19.5 In addition and without prejudice to any rights which we may be entitled to under these Terms or any Applicable Regulations, we shall have a general lien on all property held by us on your behalf until the Secured Obligations are satisfied.

Schedule 1

Description of investments and risk warnings

1 General warnings

- This schedule provides you with a general description of the nature and risks of the Investments, which you may trade with us. It does not disclose all of the risks and other significant aspects of the Investments.
- You should consider carefully whether or not the Investment is suitable for you in light of your circumstances and financial position, and if you are in any doubt, please seek professional advice. In particular, warrants and derivative instruments such as futures, options and contracts for difference are complicated instruments and you should make sure that you understand their nature and the level of risk they involve before you deal in these instruments. Although warrants and/ or derivative instruments can be used for the management of investment risk, some of these are unsuitable for many investors.
- You should be aware that the performance of all of the instruments set out below is not guaranteed and the prices may go down as well as up.
- You should not view the past performance of Investments as a guide to their future performance.
- If you are not sure about any aspect of this schedule, you should obtain professional advice.

2 Options

2.1 Nature

- An option is a financial derivative which represents a contract sold by one party (the one writing the option) to another (the one buying the option).
- The option buyer has the right, but not the obligation, to buy or sell a security or other financial asset at an agreed-upon price during a certain period of time or on a specific date.
- There are many different types of options with different characteristics and risks.

2.2 General risks

- Certain options markets operate on a margined basis, under which buyers do not pay the full premium on their option at the time they purchase it.

- In this situation you may subsequently be called upon to pay margin on the option up to the level of your premium. If you fail to do so as required, your position may be closed or liquidated in the same way as a futures position.

2.3 Risks of buying options

- Buying options involves less risk than selling/writing options because, if the price of the underlying asset moves against the buyer, the buyer can simply allow the option to lapse.
- The maximum loss is limited to the premium, plus any commission or other transaction charges.

2.4 Risks of selling/writing options:

- Selling/writing options involves greater risk than buying options.
- There may be a liability for margin to maintain its position and a loss may be sustained well in excess of the premium received.
- The option seller/writer accepts a legal obligation to purchase or sell the underlying asset if the option is exercised, however far the market price has moved away from the exercise price.

2.5 Traditional options:

- Certain London Stock Exchange member firms under special exchange rules write a particular type of option called a 'traditional option'. These may involve greater risk than other options.
- Two-way prices are not usually quoted and there is no exchange market on which to close out an open position or to effect an equal and opposite transaction to reverse an open position.
- It may be difficult to assess its value or for the seller of such an option to manage his exposure to risk.

3 Contracts for differences

3.1 Nature

- Futures and options contracts can also be referred to as contracts for difference.
- These can be options and futures on the FTSE 100 index, or any other index, as well as currency and interest rate swaps. However, unlike other futures and options, these contracts can only be settled in cash.

3.2 Risks

- Investing in a contract for difference carries a high degree of risk because the 'gearing' or 'leverage' often obtainable means that a small deposit or down payment can lead to large losses as well as gains.
- This also means that a relatively small movement can lead to a proportionately much larger movement in the value of your investment and this can work against you as well as for you.
- Transactions in contracts for differences may also have a contingent liability and you should be aware of the implications of this as set out in clause 7.

4 Futures

4.1 Nature

- Transactions in futures involve the obligation to make, or to take, delivery of the underlying asset of the contract at a future date, or in some cases to settle the position with cash.

4.2 Risks

- Futures carry a high degree of risk.
- The 'gearing' or 'leverage' often obtainable in futures trading means that entering into such transactions can lead to large losses as well as gains. It also means that a relatively small movement can lead to a proportionately much larger movement in the value of an investment, either for or against you.
- Futures transactions have a contingent liability, and you should be aware of the implications of this, in particular the margining requirements, which are set out in clause 7.
- Examples of futures include foreign exchange futures, interest rate futures and commodity futures.

5 Foreign exchange investments

5.1 Nature

- Foreign exchange (or "forex") is a currency market where the trading of one currency against another takes place.
- Foreign exchange investments are likely to be either: (i) a future (please see clause 4 above on futures) where the underlying property which is to be sold is a foreign exchange or sterling or (ii) a contract for difference (please see clause 3 above on contracts for differences) where the profit is to be secured or loss avoided by reference to fluctuations in forex.

5.2 Risks

- Foreign exchange investments carry the same risks associated with futures and CFDs (please see clause 3 for contracts for differences and clause 4 for futures).
- Such investments generally also carry margin risk which is set out in clause 7.
- In addition, the forex market is highly volatile and is reactive to market, economic and political events.

6 Off exchange transactions in derivatives

6.1 Nature

- An off-exchange transaction involves the trading of derivatives that are not listed on any exchange. This includes, but is not limited to interest rate swaps, caps, floors and collars, and forward rate agreements traded on an over the counter basis.

6.2 Risks

- While some off-exchange markets are highly liquid, transactions in off-exchange or "non-transferable" derivatives may involve greater risk than investing in on-exchange derivatives because there is no market on which to close out an open position.
- It may be impossible to liquidate an existing position, to assess the value of the position arising from an off-exchange transaction or to assess the exposure to risk.
- Bid prices and offer prices need not be quoted, and, even where they are, they will be established by dealers in these instruments and consequently it may be difficult to establish what a fair price is.

7 Margined transactions

7.1 Nature

- Contingent liability investment transactions, which are margined, require you to make a series of payments against the purchase price, instead of paying the whole purchase price immediately.

7.2 Risks

- If you trade in futures, contracts for differences or sell options, you may sustain a total loss of the margin you deposit with us to establish or maintain a position.

- If the market moves against you, you may be called upon to pay substantial additional margin at short notice to maintain the position. If you fail to do so within the time required, your position may be liquidated at a loss and you will be responsible for the resulting shortfall. Even if a transaction is not margined, it may still carry an obligation to make further payments in certain circumstances over and above any amount paid when you entered the contract.

8 Limited liability transactions

8.1 Nature

- Limited liability transactions are transactions in which you agree with us the extent of your loss liability.
- Before you enter into the transaction, we will confirm that the extent of your loss on each transaction will be limited to an amount agreed by you.
- The amount you can lose in limited liability transactions will be less than in other margined transactions, which have no predetermined loss limit.

8.2 Risks

- Even though the extent of loss will be subject to the agreed limit, you may sustain the loss in a relatively short time.
- Your loss may be limited, but the risk of sustaining a total loss to the amount agreed is substantial.

9 Warrants

9.1 Nature

- A warrant is a time-limited right to subscribe for shares, debentures, loan stock or government securities and is exercisable against the original issuer of the underlying securities.
- Some other instruments are also called warrants but are actually options (for example, a right to acquire securities which is exercisable against someone other than the original issuer of the securities, often called a 'covered warrant').

9.2 Risks

- It is important to note that a relatively small movement in the price of the underlying security results in a disproportionately large movement, unfavourable or favourable, in the price of the warrant. As a result, the prices of warrants can be volatile.
- The right to subscribe conferred by a warrant is generally limited by time, which means that if the investor fails to exercise this right within the predetermined time-scale then the investment becomes worthless. It is therefore important to understand that if you are considering purchasing a warrant you should be prepared to lose all of the money you have invested plus any commission or other transaction charges.

10 Securitised derivatives

10.1 Nature

- Certain types of securitised derivatives, including covered warrants, may give you a time-limited right to buy or sell one or more types of investment which is normally exercisable against someone other than the issuer of that investment.
- Other types of securitised derivatives may give you rights under a contract for differences which allow for speculation on the changes in the value of a particular kind of property (of any description) or changes in the value of an index, such as the FTSE 100 index. In both cases, the investment or property may be referred to as the "underlying instrument".

10.2 Risks

- Securitised derivatives often involve a high degree of gearing or leverage, so that a relatively small movement in the price of the underlying investment results in a much larger movement, unfavourable or favourable, in the price of the securitised derivative which means that the price of these instruments can be volatile.
- Securitised derivatives have a limited life, and may (unless there is some form of guaranteed return to the amount you are investing in the product) expire worthless if the underlying instrument does not perform as expected.
- As a result of this risk, you should only buy these products if you are prepared to lose all of the money you have invested plus any commission or other transaction charges.

- You should consider carefully whether or not this product is suitable for you in light of your circumstances and financial position and if you are in any doubt you should seek professional advice.

11 General risks of trading

11.1 Foreign markets

- Foreign markets will involve different risks from the Irish and UK markets. In some cases the risks will be greater.
- The potential for profit or loss from transactions on foreign markets or in foreign denominated contracts can be affected by fluctuations in foreign exchange rates.

11.2 Collateral

- If you deposit collateral as security with us, the way in which it will be treated will vary according to the type of transaction and where it is traded.
- There could be significant differences in the treatment of your collateral depending on whether you are trading on a recognised or designated investment exchange, with the rules of that exchange (and the associated clearing house) applying, or trading off-exchange.
- Deposited collateral may lose its identity as your property once dealings on your behalf are undertaken. Even if your dealings should ultimately prove profitable, you may not get back the same assets which you deposited, and may have to accept payment in cash.
- You should ascertain from us how your collateral will be dealt with.

11.3 Commissions

- Before you begin to trade, you should obtain details of all commissions and other charges for which you will be liable.
- If any charges are not expressed in money terms (but, for example, as a percentage of contract value), you should obtain a clear and written explanation, including appropriate examples, to establish what such charges are likely to mean in specific money terms.
- In the case of futures, when commission is charged as a percentage, it will normally be as a percentage of the total contract value, and not simply as a percentage of your initial payment.

11.4 Suspensions of trading

- Under certain trading conditions it may be difficult or impossible to liquidate a position. This may occur, for example, at times of rapid price movement if the price rises or falls in one trading session to such an extent that under the rules of the relevant exchange trading is suspended or restricted.
- Placing a stop-loss order will not necessarily limit your losses to the intended amounts, because market conditions may make it impossible to execute such an order at the stipulated price.

11.5 Clearing house protections

- On many exchanges, the performance of a transaction by us (or a third party with whom we are dealing on your behalf) is 'guaranteed' by the exchange or clearing house. However, this guarantee is unlikely in most circumstances to cover you, the customer, and may not protect you if we or another party defaults on its obligations to you.
- There is no clearing house for traditional options, nor normally for off-exchange instruments which are not traded under the rules of a recognised or designated investment exchange.

11.6 Insolvency

- Our insolvency or default, or that of any other brokers involved with your transaction, may lead to positions being liquidated or closed but without your consent. In certain circumstances, you may not get back the actual assets which you lodged as collateral and you may have to accept any available payments in cash.

Specific rules for MiFID II Regulated FX Contracts

- 1 Conditions Precedent

You may not enter into a MiFID II Regulated FX Contract unless we have received:

 - (a) evidence satisfactory to us of compliance with exchange control requirements (if applicable) and the requirements of any other regulatory authorities; and
 - (b) any security which we require, provided in the form and substance satisfactory to us together with all necessary filings, registrations, stamp duty and registration fees.
- 2 Failure to deliver currency pursuant to an MiFID II Regulated FX Contract
 - (a) In the event that you fail to deliver in cleared funds any currency due to us pursuant to a MiFID II Regulated FX Contract you will be liable to pay us the amount of any loss that may arise. You authorise us to debit one or more of your Accounts with us in respect of any amount due and not paid under a MiFID II Regulated FX Contract. For this purpose we may convert any obligation under a MiFID II Regulated FX Contract into the currency in which the other is denominated at our spot rate of exchange for the relevant currencies.
 - (b) You authorise us to set-off any credit balance to which you are entitled on any Account with us in satisfaction of any sum due and payable by you to us. The payment of any credit balance shall also constitute a MiFID II Regulated FX Contract for the purposes of these Terms.
- 3 Payment and Settlement
 - (a) If you request, we may, at our absolute discretion, agree to settle a MiFID II Regulated FX Contract earlier or later than the date(s) originally agreed between us for settlement. If we do, then we may at our absolute discretion apply an adjusted rate of exchange to the MiFID II Regulated FX Contract.
 - (b) If, pursuant to an agreed MiFID II Regulated FX Contract, you have the right to settle the contract in whole or in part over a period of time (the "Settlement Period"), then any partial settlement of such contract will not extinguish the obligation upon you to settle the remaining balance of the contract within the Settlement Period.
 - (c) You acknowledge that all payments to be made to you by us and by you to us under these Terms may be debited or credited as the case may be to the relevant Account. This may require us to enter into further FX Contracts on your behalf if the relevant payment amount is in a different currency than the currency of the Account.
 - (d) You acknowledge and agree that we shall be entitled to enter into such further MiFID II Regulated FX Contracts on your behalf. We may at your direction pay or receive amounts due under these contracts to or from third parties on your behalf and any such payment shall be debited or credited, as applicable, to the Account.
